Original Description: RP states that a leak of natural gas is occurring near a well head at a storage field.

Update(s): 11/03/2015 09:39:38 AM - DOG has been aware of this release since October 23rd when the release was reported to them. The release was venting over a third of an acre due to a plugged line the natural gas was venting through gopher holes and cracks in the cement. There has been ant 80% reduction of the release since the onset due to unplugging the line.
Per DOG the release will be contained within the next 24 to 36 hours waiting on special equipment in to handle the release/kill the well head.
